Investment Objective

The Fund seeks to outperform equity returns with equity-like risk through a well diversified portfolio across asset classes.

This share class is hedged into EUR. The aim is, as far as possible, to replicate the performance of the GBP share class. This is achieved by entering into forward currency contracts equal to the net asset value of the EUR share class.

Fund Manager Commentary

The US economy continues to power ahead; Gross Domestic Product (GDP) growth, payroll numbers and participation rate all continue to be strong, though wage inflation is a potential issue. US rate rises seem more certain now, driving the recent US dollar strength. In contrast to this we have seen a "rolling over" of the macro data in other developed economies with growth modestly slowing. In emerging markets Argentina and Brazil have reminded investors of the additional risks they adopt when investing there, though China has provided some solidity in emerging Asian markets. The political woes in Spain and Italy, with the attendant "knee jerk" reaction by investors caused sharp moves in the markets, but by month end solutions appeared to have been reached, resulting in relief rallies. Volatility is not dead. Investors need to exploit the value that it uncovers. The fund's return was driven by its equity exposure, supported by both the fixed income and Gold allocations. Within the equity markets the strongest returns came from the US positions with strong support from the UK, European, Asian and Japanese allocations. In fixed income government bonds were the principle driver of the positive returns, while the credit was a modest detractor.
