Investment Objective

The Fund seeks to outperform equity returns with equity-like risk through a well diversified portfolio across asset classes.

This share class is hedged into USD. The aim is, as far as possible, to replicate the performance of the GBP share class. This is achieved by entering into forward currency contracts equal to the net asset value of the USD share class.

Fund Manager Commentary

Despite the Federal Reserve increasing interest rates by 75 bps at last month's meeting, market participants began to speculate as to whether the change of tone and language, signalled a Fed "pivot" away from aggressive monetary tightening. In the UK the picture is not dissimilar although inflationary pressures are a little more elevated, hitting 9.4% in June. Excluding energy, this number was 6.2%, flat vs the prior month, but unfortunately the energy issue is unlikely to improve in the short term and may drive CPI towards 11% later this year. In continental Europe, the contrast between a simultaneous change in strategy by the ECB via a 50bps rate increase, combined with the launch of their latest bond-buying anti-fragmentation tool, and yet another political crisis in Italy, is stark. GDP across the region for Q2 beat expectations, but we expect volatility over the coming months. The Equity allocation was the main driver of returns, bonds delivered a modest return and alternatives were unchanged. Equity performance was led by Europe, UK, and US, with emerging markets modestly detracting. Bonds rallied after recent declines, benefiting from their duration exposure. In alternatives commodities added value though this was offset by the weakness of gold.
