ASSET ALLOCATION RANGES

The allocation to asset class asset class will typically fall within these ranges:

Asset class	Range (%)
Cash	0 to 25
Government bonds	0 to 50
Credit	0 to 25
Equities	50 to 95
Real estate	0 to 12
Commodities	0 to 12
Alternative strategies	0 to 12

WHAT DOES THIS MODEL DO?

This model seeks to generate a blend of capital growth and income. The historical reference allocation above shows how a portfolio has typically been constructed to achieve the stated risk and return figures. However, the risks and returns of different assets are not static over time and historical returns are not a guide to future returns. This model therefore uses Kleinwort Hambros' dynamic asset allocation to invest in a wider range of asset classes in response to changing market and economic conditions. The model's current indicative asset class ranges are detailed above, and may vary over time.

PERFORMANCE UPDATE

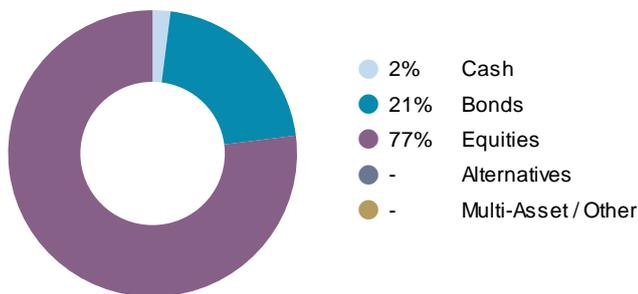

Over the quarter the portfolio rose in value by 3.0%, behind its ARC peer group, which returned 3.4%. This was largely attributable to growth strategies outperforming income over the period. The portfolio's equity allocation added the most value, benefiting from the strength of the Japanese market over the quarter, though the fixed income positions also added value.

The strongest equity performance came from the Japanese market, though the US, Asian and emerging markets also added value. Income was out of favour in most equity markets, impacting our UK, Asian and emerging market positions, resulting in the modest shortfall relative to its benchmark. Funds of note were: Tokio Marine Japanese Equity Focus (+9.8%), Polar Capital Emerging Market Income (+3.6%), Schroder Asian Income (+4.9%), SPDR S&P US Dividend Aristocrats (+5.7%) and Aviva US Equity Income (+3.9%).

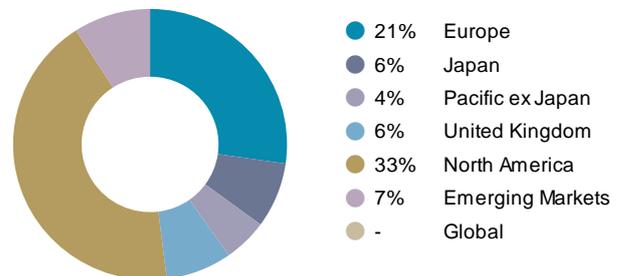

Our fixed income investments delivered a modest return, driven by the government bond allocation, though our short duration positioning was a modest detractor. The credit exposure delivered a small positive return, but lagged on a relative basis.

Over the quarter we removed the exposure to the Bloomberg Commodities benchmark, using the process to add a new holding of Invesco Sterling Bond Fund to increase the overall yield of the portfolio.
